MANAGEMENT'S DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS

Third quarter ended November 30, 2022

HIGHLIGHTS¹

- Sales for the quarter amounted to $95.2 million, a significant improvement of $10.2 million or 12.0% compared to the previous quarter of the current fiscal year, but a decrease of $14.7 million or 13.4% compared to the third quarter of the previous fiscal year. The decrease in sales for the quarter compared to the prior year is partly due to the weakened euro average rate against the U.S. dollar combined with lower sales achieved by the Company's Italian Oil & Gas operations, partly due to a decrease and timing of orders recorded by the subsidiary in prior periods as well as a strong shipment performance in the prior year, resulting mostly from a large order.
- Gross profit for the quarter amounted to $29.0 million or 30.4%, a significant improvement of $5.5 million or 280 basis points compared to the second quarter of the current fiscal year, but a decrease compared to last year's $35.9 million or 32.6%. Noteworthy is that the gross profit for the nine-month period of the previous year was 30.1%, net of government subsidies related to Covid-19.
- Net income² of $2.7 million and EBITDA³ of $6.1 million for the quarter, a significant improvement compared to the prior quarter's net loss² of $3.2 million and EBITDA³ of $1.4 million, but a decrease compared to a net income² of $4.5 million and EBITDA³ of $13.3 million last year. The decrease in EBITDA³ is primarily attributable to the previously mentioned reduction in gross profit partially offset by a decrease in administration costs in the quarter.
- Order backlog³ remains strong at $488.3 million, a decrease of $12.9 million or 2.6% since the beginning of the year which is primarily attributable to the weakening of the euro spot rate against the U.S. dollar and lower upstream oil and gas net new orders ("bookings")³ for the nine-month period. The portion of the current backlog³ deliverable in the next twelve months slightly increased since the beginning of the year to $336.2 million primarily due to customer and shipment delays encountered in previous quarters and decreased slightly from $347.2 million because of the strong shipments in the current quarter when compared to the beginning of the quarter.
- Bookings³ of $99.2 million for the quarter, an increase of $10.7 million or 12.1% compared to last year. The increase in bookings³ compared to last year resulted mainly from large marine orders recorded in the Company's North American operations. The Company's book-to-bill ratio³ for the quarter and the nine-month period was favorable at 1.04.
- The Company's net cash amounted to $29.3 million at the end of the quarter, stable versus the last quarter, but a decrease of $24.2 million since the beginning of the fiscal year. The decrease in net cash for the fiscal year is primarily attributable to the lower net income², combined with unfavorable non-cash working capital items and the ongoing repayment of long-term debt. The overall available liquidity remains strong with $137.6 million of available cash-on-hand and facilities.

The total backlog² decreased by $12.9 million or 2.6% since the beginning of the fiscal year, settling at $488.3 million at the end of the quarter. The decrease in backlog² is primarily attributable to the weakening of the euro spot rate against the U.S. dollar since the beginning of the fiscal year which represented $22.2 million for the nine-month period. The decrease since the beginning of the fiscal year was partially offset by a positive book-to-bill ratio² of 1.04 as a result of bookings² outpacing sales.

Bookings¹

Bookings¹ for the quarter amounted to $99.2 million, an increase of $10.7 million or 12.1% compared to the third quarter of last year. Bookings¹ for the nine-month period amounted to $266.1 million, a decrease of $20.3 million or 7.1% compared to the prior fiscal year. The weakening of the euro average rate against the U.S. dollar on order bookings¹ for the Company's European operations resulted in a negative impact of $5.1 million in the third quarter and $13.1 million on the nine-month period compared to the prior year. Additionally, the decrease in bookings¹ for the nine-month period is also attributable to lower large orders recorded in the Company's Italian and Portuguese operations. The decrease for the nine-month period was partially offset by a strong bookings¹ quarter from the Company's North American operations which recorded significant marine orders. The decrease for both periods is also attributable to the disposal of the Company's Korean foundry at the end of the previous fiscal year. The Korean foundry had recorded $1.2 million of bookings¹ in the second quarter of the previous fiscal year and $5.5 million for the nine-month period of the same year.

Sales

Sales amounted to $95.2 million for the quarter, decreasing by $14.7 million or 13.4% compared to the same quarter last year. Sales for the nine-month period totaled $255.3 million, a decrease of $31.1 or 10.9% compared to the last fiscal year. The negative effect of the weakening of the euro average rate against the U.S. dollar on sales for the quarter amounted to $4.9 million, and $15.9 million for the nine-month period compared to the third quarter and first nine-month of last fiscal year. The decrease in sales for both periods is also attributable to the delivery of significant orders by the Company's Italian operations destined to the upstream oil and gas sector in the prior fiscal year combined with lower bookings and also the timing effect thereof. Finally, the decrease for the quarter was partially offset by the recognition of a $10.9 million order which could not be recorded in the previous quarter due to logistics delays.

Gross profit

Gross profit for the quarter amounted to $29.0 million, a decrease of $6.9 million or 19.2% compared to the same quarter last year. Gross profit for the nine-month period amounted to $72.5 million, a decrease of $14.7 million or 16.9% compared to the same period last year. The gross profit percentage for the quarter of 30.4% was a decrease of 220 basis points compared to last year's third quarter, while the gross profit percentage for the nine-month period of 28.4% represented a decrease of 210 basis points compared to the same period last year. The gross profit in the prior year was positively impacted by the recording of $1.1 million for the nine-month period of Covid-19 subsidies, which when removed, resulted in Gross Profit of 30.1% for the nine-month period. The decrease in gross profit percentage for both periods is primarily attributable to the lower sales volume which impacted the absorption of fixed production overhead costs. The decrease in gross profit percentage was also due to the unfavorable effect of the product mix delivered. Additionally, The Company's gross profit for the quarter was negatively impacted by unfavorable foreign exchange movements, when compared to similar movements from the previous year, which were primarily made up of unrealized foreign exchange translations related to the fluctuation of the U.S. dollar against the euro and Canadian dollar. These foreign exchange movements were favorable in the nine-month period.

Administration cost

Administration costs for the quarter amounted to $25.4 million, a decrease of $1.0 million or 3.8%. Administration costs for the nine-month period amounted to $75.9 million, an increase of $1.7 million or 2.3%. Administration costs for both periods were negatively affected by an increase in the Company's long-term asbestos provision as well as higher outbound freight costs caused by the current global supply chain issues which are impacting freight costs and shipping delays. The administration costs in the prior year benefited from the recording of $0.9 million for the nine-month period of CEWS. The movement for both periods were favorably impacted by lower sales commissions recorded on the delivery of large orders and a general reduction in remaining administration costs.

EBITDA¹

EBITDA¹ for the quarter amounted to $6.1 million or $0.28 per share compared to $13.3 million or $0.62 per share last year. EBITDA¹ for the nine-month period amounted to $4.6 million or $0.21 per share compared to $23.0 million or $1.07 per share last year. The unfavorable movements in EBITDA¹ for both periods are primarily attributable to the previously explained decrease in gross profit combined with an increase in administration costs for the nine-month period. The decrease in EBITDA¹ for the quarter was partially offset by a reduction in administration costs. A portion of the effects on the EBITDA¹ caused by the weakening of the euro against the U.S. dollar were hedged by the company.

Net income (loss)¹

Net income¹ amounted to $2.7 million or $0.13 per share compared to $4.5 million or $0.21 per share last year. Net loss¹ for the nine-month period amounted to $8.3 million or $0.38 per share compared to a net income¹ of $4.4 million or $0.21 per share last year. The negative movement in the Company's results was primarily attributable to the same factors as explained in the EBITDA² section, partially offset by favorable movements in income taxes and in finance costs for both periods.

LIQUIDITY AND CAPITAL RESOURCES – a discussion of liquidity risk, credit facilities, cash flows and proposed transactions (unless otherwise noted, all dollar amounts are denominated in U.S. dollars)

Liquidity risk is the risk that the Company will not be able to meet its financial obligations as they come due. The Company manages its liquidity risk by continually monitoring its future cash requirements. Cash flow forecasting is performed in the operating entities and aggregated by the Company's corporate finance team. The Company's policy is to maintain sufficient cash and cash equivalents and available credit facilities in order to meet its present and future operational needs.

On November 30, 2022, the Company's order backlog² was $488.3 million and its net cash plus unused credit facilities amounted to $137.6 million, which it believes, along with future cash flows generated from operations, is sufficient to meet its financial obligations, increase its capacity, satisfy its working capital requirements, and execute on its business strategy. The Company also believes that its unused credit facilities are sufficient to navigate through lingering COVID-19 impacts and the conflict in Ukraine. However, there can be no assurance that the risk of another sharp downturn in the economy will not materially adversely affect the Company's results of operations or financial condition. As at November 30, 2022, the Company is in compliance with all covenants related to its debt and credit facilities.

As part of managing its liquidity risk, the Company also monitors the financial health of its key suppliers and customers. As at November 30, 2022, the Company does not see undue risk as a result of this assessment.

Cash flows - quarter and nine-month period ended November 30, 2022

Operating activities

The unfavorable movement in cash used by operating activities for the quarter and the nine-month period is primarily attributable to the decrease in EBITDA¹ combined with unfavorable movements in non-cash working capital items.

The changes in non-cash working capital items were as follow:

(thousands)	Three-month periods ended		Nine-month periods ended
	November 30, 2022	November 30, 2021	November 30, 2022	November 30, 2021
Accounts receivable	(3,483)	11,677	(4,087)	18,865
Income taxes recoverable	(1,753)	317	(4,443)	506
Inventories	1,762	4,681	(2,138)	(33,807)
Deposits and prepaid expenses	(1,145)	699	(776)	(775)

Changes in non-cash working capital items	(4,585)	(1,512)	(12,483)	(4,771)

The negative non-cash working capital movements for the quarter ended November 30, 2022 consisted primarily of:

- An increase in accounts receivable primarily due to the higher proportion of sales that occurred at the tail end of the quarter; and
- A lower amount of customer deposits collected on certain large orders by the Company's North American operations.

The positive non-cash working capital movements for the quarter ended November 30, 2022 consisted primarily of an increase in accounts payable and accrued liabilities due to the timing of payments as well as the increased focused by the Company on working capital management.

The negative non-cash working capital movements for the nine-month period ended November 30, 2022 consisted primarily of:

- An increase in accounts receivable for the same reason as explained above.
- An increase in income taxes recoverable primarily due to installments payments as well as required deposits made to tax authorities regarding various tax assessments.
- An increase in inventories primarily in reaction to the delivery schedule of certain large orders.
- A decrease in the Company's legal provision, primarily due to settlement payments related to outstanding asbestos claims.

Investing activities

Cash used by investing activities for the quarter was primarily due to additions to property, plant and equipment and intangible assets. Cash used by investing activities for the nine-month period was primarily due to an increase in short-term investments and additions to property, plant and equipment and intangible assets. The fluctuation in additions to property, plant and equipment for the current quarter is primarily attributable to the timing of the receipts of certain equipment.

Financing activities

During the current quarter, the Company drew down $5.4 million on its revolving credit facility to fund short-term working capital needs. However, the Company continued to pay down its outstanding long-term debt. During the nine-month period, the Company's Italian operations borrowed $2.2 million in the form of unsecured bank loans, bearing annual interest between 0.67% and 0.71%, repayable quarterly and expiring in fiscal 2027.

FINANCIAL INSTRUMENTS AND FINANCIAL RISK MANAGEMENT

The Company's activities expose it to a variety of financial risks: market risk (including currency risk, cash flow interest rate risk and fair value interest rate risk), credit risk and liquidity risk. The Company's overall financial risk management program focuses on mitigating unpredictable financial market risks and their potential adverse effects on the Company's financial performance.

The Company's financial risk management is generally carried out by the corporate finance team, based on policies approved by the Board of Directors. The identification, evaluation and hedging of the financial risks are the responsibility of the corporate finance team in conjunction with the finance teams of the Company's subsidiaries. The Company uses derivative financial instruments to hedge certain risk exposures. Use of derivative financial instruments is subject to a policy which requires that no derivative transaction be entered into for the purpose of establishing a speculative or leveraged position (the corollary being that all derivative transactions are to be entered into for risk management purposes only).

Market risk

Currency risk

Currency risk on financial instruments is the risk that the fair value of future cash flows of a financial instrument will fluctuate because of changes in foreign exchange rates. The Company operates internationally and is exposed to foreign exchange risk arising from various currency exposures. Currency risk arises when future commercial transactions and recognized assets and liabilities are denominated in a currency other than a company's functional currency. The Company has operations with different functional currencies, each of which will be exposed to currency risk based on its specific functional currency.

When possible, the Company matches cash receipts in a foreign currency with cash disbursements in that same currency. The remaining anticipated net exposure to foreign currencies is hedged. To hedge this exposure, the Company uses foreign currency derivatives, primarily foreign exchange forward contracts. These derivatives are not designated as hedges for accounting purposes.

The amounts outstanding as at November 30, 2022 and February 28, 2022 are as follows:

	Range of exchange rates		Gain (loss) (in thousands of U.S. dollars)		Notional amount (in thousands of indicated currency)
	November 30, 2022	February 28, 2022	November 30, 2022	February 28, 2022	November 30, 2022	February 28, 2022
Foreign exchange forward contracts
Sell US$ for CA$ - 0 to 12 months	1.27-1.28	1.27-1.28	(302)	(470)	US$12,500	US$50,000
Buy US$ for CA$ - 0 to 12 months	1.25	1.25	-	301	US$12,500	US$50,000
Sell € for US$ - 0 to 12 months	1.15	1.15	-	(90)	€3,750	€15,000
Buy € for US$ - 0 to 12 months	1.13	1.13	341	252	€3,750	€15,000

Foreign exchange forward contracts are contracts whereby the Company has the obligation to sell or buy the currencies at the strike price. The fair value of the foreign currency instruments is recorded in the consolidated statement of income and reflects the estimated amounts the Company would have paid or received to settle these contracts as at the financial position date. Unrealized gains are recorded as derivative assets and unrealized losses as derivative liabilities on the consolidated statement of financial position.

Interest rate risk

The Company's exposure to interest rate risk is related primarily to its credit facilities, long-term debt and cash and cash equivalents. Items at variable rates expose the Company to cash flow interest rate risk, and items at fixed rates expose the Company to fair value interest rate risk. The Company's long-term debt and credit facilities predominantly bear interest, and its cash and cash equivalents earn interest at variable rates. An assumed 0.5% change in interest rates would have no significant impact on the Company's net income or cash flows.

Credit risk

Credit risk is the risk of an unexpected loss if a customer or counterparty to a financial instrument fails to meet its contractual obligations. Credit risk arises primarily from the Company's trade accounts receivable.

The Company's credit risk related to its trade accounts receivable is concentrated. As at November 30, 2022, four (February 28, 2022 – three) customers accounted for more than 5% each of its trade accounts receivable, of which one customer accounted for 16.7% (February 28, 2022 – 10.8%), and the Company's ten largest customers accounted for 69.5% (February 28, 2022 – 55.7%) of trade accounts receivable. In addition, there were two customers (November 30, 2021 – one) that accounted for more than 10% of the Company's sales.

In order to mitigate its credit risk, the Company performs a continual evaluation of its customers' credit and performs specific evaluation procedures on all its new customers. In performing its evaluation, the Company analyzes the ageing of accounts receivable, historical payment patterns, customer creditworthiness and current economic trends. A specific credit limit is established for each customer and reviewed periodically. For some trade accounts receivable, the Company may obtain security in the form of credit insurance which can be called upon if the counterparty is in default under the terms of the agreement.

The Company applies the IFRS 9 simplified approach to measure expected credit losses using a lifetime expected credit loss allowance for trade receivables. The expected credit loss rates are based on the Company's historical credit losses experienced over the last fiscal year prior to period end. The historical rates are then adjusted for current and forward-looking information on macro-economic factors affecting the Company's customers.

The Company is also exposed to credit risk relating to derivative financial instruments, cash and cash equivalents and short-term investments, which it manages by dealing with highly rated financial institutions. The Company's primary credit risk is limited to the carrying value of the trade accounts receivable and gains on derivative assets.

The table below summarizes the ageing of the trade accounts receivable as at:

CERTAIN RISKS THAT COULD AFFECT OUR BUSINESS

The Company lists the various risks that could affect its business in the year-end version of its MD&A. The Company continuously monitors and evaluates such risks, with particular current focus on the current geopolitical instabilities and inflation. The Company has no changes to report as at November 30, 2022.

INTERNAL CONTROLS AND PROCEDURES

In accordance with National Instrument 52-109 – Certification of Disclosure in Issuer's Annual and Interim Filings, disclosure controls and procedures have been designed to provide reasonable assurance that the information presented in the Company's interim and annual reports to shareholders is accumulated and communicated to management on a timely basis, including the Chief Executive Officer and the Chief Financial Officer, in order for appropriate decisions to be made in regards to disclosures. Internal controls over financial reporting have also been designed to provide reasonable assurance regarding the reliability of the financial reporting and the preparation of financial statements in accordance with IFRS.

The Company did not make any changes to the design of internal controls over financial reporting during the three-month and nine-month periods ended November 30, 2022 that have materially affected, or are reasonably likely to materially affect, the Company's internal controls over financial reporting.

CRITICAL ACCOUNTING ESTIMATES & JUDGEMENTS

The Company's financial statements are prepared in accordance with IFRS as issued by the IASB. The Company's significant accounting policies as described in notes 2 and 3 of the Company's audited consolidated financial statements are essential to understanding the Company's financial positions, results of operations and cash flows. Certain of these accounting policies require critical accounting estimates that involve complex and subjective judgments and the use of assumptions, some of which may be for matters that are inherently uncertain and susceptible to change. The assumptions and estimates used are based on parameters which are derived from the knowledge at the time of preparing the financial statements and believed to be reasonable under the circumstances. In particular, the circumstances prevailing at this time and assumptions as to the expected future development of the global and industry-specific environment were used to estimate the Company's future business performance. Where these conditions develop differently than assumed and beyond the control of the Company, the actual results may differ from those anticipated (see Forward-looking information section above). These estimates and underlying assumptions are reviewed on an ongoing basis. Revisions to accounting estimates are recognized in the period in which the estimate is changed. There were no significant changes made to critical accounting estimates during the past two fiscal years.

There have been no material changes from those identified in the annual MD&A.

ACCOUNTING STANDARDS AND AMENDMENTS ISSUED BUT NOT YET ADOPTED

In January 2020, the International Accounting Standards Board ("IASB") issued Classification of Liabilities as Current or Non-current (Amendments to IAS 1) providing a more general approach to the classification of liabilities under IAS 1 based on the contractual arrangements in place at the reporting date. The amendments in Classification of Liabilities as Current or Non-current (Amendments to IAS 1) affect only the presentation of liabilities in the statement of financial position, not the amount or timing of recognition of any asset, liability income or expenses, or the information that entities disclose about those items. In July 2020, the IASB published Classification of Liabilities as Current or Non-current – Deferral of Effective Date (Amendment to IAS 1) deferring the effective date of the January 2020 amendments to IAS 1 by one year. The amendments to IAS 1 are effective for annual reporting periods beginning on or after January 1, 2023 with earlier adoption permitted. The Company is currently evaluating the impact of these amendments on its financial statements.

NON-IFRS AND SUPPLEMENTARY FINANCIAL MEASURES

In this MD&A, the Company has presented measures of performance or financial condition which are not defined under IFRS ("non-IFRS measures") and are, therefore, unlikely to be comparable to similar measures presented by other companies. These measures are used by management in assessing the operating results and financial condition of the Company and are reconciled with the performance measures defined under IFRS. Company has also presented supplementary financial measures which are defined at the end of this report. Reconciliation and definition can be found below.

Earnings before interest, taxes, depreciation and amortization ("EBITDA")

(thousands, except amount per shares)	Three-month periods ended		Nine-month periods ended
	November 30, 2022 $	November 30, 2021 $	November 30, 2022 $	November 30, 2021 $
Net income (loss) ¹	6,136	4,507	(8,289)	4,449
Adjustments for:
Depreciation of property, plant and equipment	2,086	2,382	6,270	7,190
Amortization of intangible assets	540	556	1,664	1,565

EBITDA	6,136	13,291	4,623	23,007
EBITDA per share
- Basic and diluted	0.28	0.62	0.21	1.07

The term "EBITDA" is defined as net income or loss attributable to Subordinate and Multiple Voting Shares plus depreciation of property, plant & equipment, plus amortization of intangible assets, plus net finance costs plus income taxes. The terms "EBITDA per share" is obtained by dividing EBITDA by the total amount of subordinate and multiple voting shares. The forward-looking statements contained in this MD&A are expressly qualified by this cautionary statement.

Definitions of supplementary financial measures

The term "Net new orders" or "bookings" is defined as firm orders, net of cancellations, recorded by the Company during a period. Bookings are impacted by the fluctuation of foreign exchange rates for a given period. The measure provides an indication of the Company's sales operation performance for a given period as well as an expectation of future sales and cash flows to be achieved on these orders.

The term "backlog" is defined as the buildup of all outstanding bookings to be delivered by the Company. The Company's backlog is impacted by the fluctuation of foreign exchange rates for a given period. The measure provides an indication of the future operational challenges of the Company as well as an expectation of future sales and cash flows to be achieved on these orders.

The term "book-to-bill" is obtained by dividing bookings by sales. The measure provides an indication of the Company's performance and outlook for a given period.

The forward-looking statements contained in this MD&A are expressly qualified by this cautionary statement.

¹ Net income or loss refer to net income or loss attributable to Subordinate and Multiple Voting Shares

NOTES TO THE CONDENSED INTERIM CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

For the three-month and nine-month periods ended November 30, 2022

1 General information

These unaudited condensed interim financial statements represent the consolidation of the accounts of Velan Inc. (the "Company") and its subsidiaries. The Company is an international manufacturer of industrial valves and is a public company listed on the Toronto Stock Exchange under the symbol "VLN". It was incorporated under the name Velan Engineering Ltd. on December 12, 1952 and continued under the Canada Business Corporations Act on February 11, 1977. It changed its name to Velan Inc. on February 20, 1981. Velan Inc. maintains its registered head office at 7007 Cote de Liesse, Montreal, Quebec, Canada, H4T 1G2. The Company's ultimate parent company is Velan Holdings Co. Ltd.

These unaudited condensed interim consolidated financial statements were approved for issue by the Company's Board of Directors on January 11, 2023.

2 Basis of preparation

These unaudited condensed interim consolidated financial statements for the three-month and nine-month periods ended November 30, 2022 have been prepared in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards ("IFRS") in accordance with International Accounting Standard ("IAS") 34, Interim Financial Reporting. These unaudited condensed interim consolidated financial statements have been prepared using the same basis of presentation, accounting policies, and methods of computation as outlined in Note 2, Summary of significant accounting policies, in the Company's annual consolidated financial statements for the year ended February 28, 2022, which have also been prepared in accordance with IFRS. Accordingly, these unaudited condensed interim consolidated financial statements should be read in conjunction with the Company's annual consolidated financial statements for the year ended February 28, 2022.

3 New accounting standards and amendments issued but not yet adopted

In January 2020, the International Accounting Standards Board ("IASB") issued Classification of Liabilities as Current or Non-current (Amendments to IAS 1) providing a more general approach to the classification of liabilities under IAS 1 based on the contractual arrangements in place at the reporting date. The amendments in Classification of Liabilities as Current or Non-current (Amendments to IAS 1) affect only the presentation of liabilities in the statement of financial position, not the amount or timing of recognition of any asset, liability income or expenses, or the information that entities disclose about those items. In July 2020, the IASB published Classification of Liabilities as Current or Non-current – Deferral of Effective Date (Amendment to IAS 1) deferring the effective date of the January 2020 amendments to IAS 1 by one year. The amendments to IAS 1 are effective for annual reporting periods beginning on or after January 1, 2023 with earlier adoption permitted. The Company is currently evaluating the impact of these amendments on its financial statements.

4 Estimates

The preparation of interim financial statements requires management to make judgements, estimates and assumptions that affect the application of accounting policies and the reported amounts of assets and liabilities, income and expense. Actual results may differ from these estimates.

In preparing these unaudited condensed interim consolidated financial statements, the significant judgements made by management in applying the Company's accounting policies and the key sources of estimation uncertainty were the same as those that applied to the annual consolidated financial statements for the year ended February 28, 2022.

Since December 2019, the coronavirus (“COVID-19”) global pandemic has caused temporary disruptions in the Company’s production and supply chain which have materially adversely affected its business and financial results. The economic slowdown triggered by the global pandemic, mainly in the oil and gas sector at the beginning of the previous fiscal year, also translated in lower non-project valve sales for the Company. More specifically, during the period of the ongoing pandemic, the Maintenance, Repair & Overhaul (“MRO”) business segment of the group was most impacted. By the second half of the fiscal year-ended February 28, 2022, however, sales started to pick-up at the midpoint of the year and reached pre-covid levels by year-end.

For the three-month and nine-month periods ended November 30, 2022, consolidated sales are lower than the previous year for various reasons such as supply chain and customer related issues as well as the timing of delivery dates on open orders which should be recovered in subsequent periods. However, the Company notes that MRO sales for both periods have improved compared to the prior fiscal year, therefore hinting at a recovery from the pandemic.

Although the Company has implemented proactive measures to protect its global workforce and mitigate the numerous effects of the pandemic, given the ongoing dynamic nature of circumstances surrounding COVID-19, it is not possible to reliably estimate the length, severity and long-term impact the global pandemic may have on the Company’s results, conditions and cash flows. Therefore, the COVID-19 global pandemic should still be considered a risk factor.

During the three-month and nine-month periods ended November 30, 2022, no wage subsidies were available to the Company which would have helped lower payroll costs. For the three-month period ended November 30, 2021, the company did apply for such subsidies which provided a reduction in salaries of $21 in Cost of sales and $16 in Administration costs. For the nine-month period ended November 30, 2021, the company applied for such subsidies which provided a reduction in salaries of $1,142 in Cost of sales and $905 in Administration costs.

5 Seasonality

The Company’s sales are not subject to seasonality. Quarterly sales can vary based on the timing of revenue recognition on large orders.

6 Inventories

As at November 30, 2022, the Company had drawn down $5,373 (February 28, 2022 – nil) on the revolving credit facility and had $4,941 (February 28, 2022 – $3,980) in the form of outstanding letters of credit and letters of guarantee on a total $47,183 (February 28, 2022 – $49,365) borrowing availability. Furthermore, as at November 30, 2022, the Company was in compliance with all of its covenants.

8 Fair value of financial instruments

The fair value hierarchy has the following levels:

- Level 1 – quoted market prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities;
- Level 2 – inputs other than quoted market prices included in Level 1 that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly (as prices) or indirectly (derived from prices); and
- Level 3 – unobservable inputs such as inputs for the asset or liability that are not based on observable market data. The level in the fair value hierarchy within which the fair value measurement is categorized in its entirety is determined on the basis of the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement in its entirety.

The fair value of financial assets and financial liabilities on the condensed interim consolidated statements of financial position are as follows:
